Unit Plan: 11th Grade US History

Unit #2: The Roaring Twenties
19 Instructional Days

Unit Overview

Big Idea:
After WW1 America enters a period of economic growth and isolationism which leads to excess and paranoia. This new economic boom helped lead to the creation of new technologies that have impact on American culture that can still be felt today.

Unit Goal:
- Analyze continuity and change in eras over the course of United States history
- Investigate causes, effects, and Complexity of significant events in United States history—Prohibition
- Examine and evaluate issues of unity and diversity from Reconstruction to present—The role of religion
- Investigate the historical development of and impact of major scientific and technological innovations—New Consumer Technologies
- Analyze the origins of fundamental political debates and how conflict, compromise, and cooperation have shaped national unity and diversity—Suffrage, Civil Rights and the role of government
- Analyze ideas critical to the understanding of American history—populism, progressivism, isolationism, anti-communism, environmentalism, liberalism, fundamentalism, and conservatism
- Describe and analyze the historical development and impact of the arts and literature on the culture of the United States

Enduring Understanding Connections
In the Decade after World War I, the American economy experienced tremendous growth. Using revolutionary mass-production techniques, American workers produced more goods in less time than ever before. The boom fundamentally changed the lives of millions of people and helped create the modern consumer economy. During the 1920s a new era of conservative governing was favored by the US government. These conservative polices aided the growth of business in America. This pattern—a period of activism followed by a more laissez-faire approach—would repeat itself in the 1950s and 1980s. In the 1920s, whiles many city dwellers enjoyed a rising standard of living, most farmers suffered through hard times. Conflicting visions of what the nation should be heightened the urban-rural division. Some of these issues, such as the immigration policy and teaching the theory of evolution, still divide Americans today. New technologies like the automobile begin to reshape American culture, creating new forms of recreation and making it easier for people to travel. Other factors also contributed to the changing ways of daily life. Americans listen to the radio, went to the movies, and followed the exploits of sports heroes. In the process, a new mass culture emerged—one whose shape and character closely resemble our own. As a result of World War I and the Great Migration, millions of African Americans relocated from the rural South to the urban North. This mass migration continued through the 1920s and contributed to a flowering of music and literature. Jazz and the Harlem Renaissance made a lasting impact, not only on African Americans but on the culture all American share.

Course Enduring Understandings

Measuring and Tracking Learning Goals

Measuring Progress of Learning Goals

- Daily checks for understanding
- Daily demonstrators of learning to be completed for each Lesson objective

Tracking Student Progress

- Weekly averages of Learning Goal objective demonstrations of learning

Assessing the progress of the Learning Goals

Students complete formative assessments during and after the completion of each learning goal. Formative assessment consists of:

- A 15-25 Multiple choice formative assessment at the completion of the learning goal
- Chapter reading and guided reading questions
- Formative assignments throughout the learning goal
- Socratic seminars, formative writing assignments, and class discussions on the primary sources and secondary readings associated with the learning goal

Measuring and Tracking of Progress towards Unit Goals

Measuring the Unit Goals

Students complete Formative writing assessments after the completion of each learning goal.

Tracking Student Progress

- Weekly graphing of student progress on learning goal formative writing assessments

Measuring Progress to Unit Goals:

- Students score proficient or advanced on 80% of learning goal formative assessments
- Students score proficient or advanced on 80% of learning goal formative writing assignments
